A much more important question is the documents is, that Tariff; and it is one which will enter into productions were: eyery political combination. It has not of een put very prominently forward; but it is not the less important on that account. The manufacturers of America cannot exist under competition with England without a higher tariff; and the simple question is, whether manufacture shall cease or not. I may return to the subject in a subsequent weight, he would be ruled out of the profesletter; but I shall now remark only, that while the East as the great manufacturing district. has been generally in favor of higher duties, the West and the South have been adverse. A change, however, is taking place in this effect of a favorite measure? respect. Manufacture is increasing in the West, especially since large mines have been operated upon, and has sprung up in the South. Neither is so exclusively agri-cultural as it was; and there has been hardly distinguished Irish exile, Thomas Francis army, lost a limb at New Orleans, but rea President making speech for the last six Meagher, made a formal declaration to one turned to end his days in solace to the demonths which has not had some allusion to of the Judges of the Superior Court, of his clining years of his aged parents. This and the London Times explain how it is that England wishes us to adopt free trade. "The manufactures of America CAN-NOT EXIST under competition with England without a higher tariff, and the simple question is whether manufacture SHALL ity to any foreign prince, potentate or soverzist OR NOT." EXIST OR NOT."

Any one can find this passage in the July I am now a subject. number of Leonard Scott & Co's reprint Blackwood, July, 1852, page 45.

Thus we see radical Locofocoism in the England. It would be better for the Brited President; for the question is, "Whether manufacture in this country SHALL CEASE OR SOT."

This Englishman abroad is not very flattering in his notice of the country. He is ted:willing to strengthen monarchy at home by disparaging the American people. On page 48 he says:

Fillmore, Webster, Scott and Cass are the more prominent candidates; but the most prominent are not always the most successful; and it would not at all surprise me to find some man almost unheard of in the con- the pockets of American Artisans and Fartest, stepping quietly into the Presidential mers .- Albany Jour. more a man has done for the country, the less likely is the country to

INTERESTING IN RELATION TO THE PISH-ERY QUESTION .- It is stated in a despatch from Washington that so far from the fishery difficulties being settled, the gravest fears are entertained in that city for the result, and that President Fillmore and the British Minister had a long interview on the subject on Saturday. The despatch further adds :

It is ascertained that the British government never contemplated enforcing the dis- the weakness of its foundation. puted point of the treaty as to the headlands, treaty. They even go further, and declare that any fishing vessels found within the three miles are lawful prizes.

Admiral Seymour, it appears, is as desirous of preventing the execution of this forced construction as Commodore Perry can menced to-day, present Judges Thurman, costing millions of dollars, all of which enbe, but the danger is that, notwithstanding Peck and Whitman. We were not present his watchfulness, some such scizure may take place. Besides there are at least twen ty thousand American fishermen interested in this fishing trade, and authentic informa tion has reached here that they are dally becoming more and more excited.

The warlike demonstrations in the Senate will not have the effect of calming this feeling. The greatest anxiety is, therefore, felt the speedy adjustment of the difficulty. If American blood should be spilled, war would be inevitable. The negotiations which are progressing are, doubtless, rendered more complicated by the fact that the President does not feel warranted in making any concessions to England, for the opening of the fisheries, unless the matter is first submitted to Congress; and the feeling of Congress is not, at present, the most amicable.

Corrorations.-There are corporations of various kinds—and the corporation of an Alderman is generally capacious, but those of a New York Alderman "takes the dilapia committee of sixteen of them, escorting Mr. Clay's remains to Albany, ran up a bill of $1,421 30 for "refreshments." The Committee would have preferred the week next following the have preferred the week next following the one named, in point of time, but that is already appropriated to the Agricultural State Fair—an institution having for its ob-ject the prosperity of too many of the same industrial interests to which the Whig party is devoted, to allow of the selection of any period for our Convention which would divert attention from it, or prevent our friends from attending both. And we did not deem it advisable to postpone our Convention to a period later than the Fair. The Committee have under advisement a system of County Meetings, to be held afterwards which they will announce in due time.

The Committee have received so many advices from various quarters of the State of a disposition on the part of many heretofore not voting the Whig ticket, to throw saids their supposed allegiance to a platform which proposes nothing, and to a candidate who has achieved nothing, and to rally with intelligent independence to a positive support of American Industrial Interests, co nected with the use of the name of a most illustrious American Patriot, that they deem it proper to state that the only test that should be applied is, not who has been with us heretofore, but who is with us now. MINISTER TO ENGLAND. - The National Intelligencer announces; that Mr. Lawrence, our minister to Great Britain, having, at his own urgent solicitation, been recalled, the President has nominated Joseph R. Inger-soll, of Pennsylvania, to that mission. This House last evening, all alive to the impor- says The Intelligencer, seems to be a compliment not only due to the ability and high character of Mr. Ingersoll, but also very justly due to Pennsylvania, as that State has at present no full mission nor members of accomplished manners, and ha experience in public affairs.

THE FISHERIES AND THE NAVY .- An experienced naval officer says that several ves-sels now at the New York navy yard will be put in order immediately, and await advices from Washington. He does not anticipate any serious trouble about the fisheries, but is of opinion that, owing to the Nova Scotians' hatred of Americans, there may be a brush with the colonial authorities. Admiral Seymour, of the British squadron, is spoken of in the navy as a friend to the United States, and will, no doubt, see that justice is done to both parties.

O'In 1848 the township of Anderson furnished her proportion of voters to the Van Buren Free Soil ticket. Nearly if not quite all these were drawn from the party. In our sojourn here we have conversed with most of them, and have the first question but that Scott is a much better friend to Freedom than many of those who essayed to be the immaculate in that line.
